

Utterly yours makes two amazing products. The breast pillow & the pregnancy pillow. I received the awesome pregnancy pillow, and used it for a week before I thought that I could give a proper review. It took me a night to get used to it, because it's an all new way of helping support that heavy belly. I noticed the first night I felt so much more rested & when I got up for the day, I was much happier after getting a good nights sleep. Once you get used to it, you'll think, "How did I ever sleep without this!" It's perfectly firm yet soft in all the right places and supports you just right. I love that when you're not using the Utterly yours pregnancy pillow you simply fold the two sides together and make a little square that can be stored anywhere. I love the design of the utterly yours pregnancy pillow because it sits there on my bed looking beautiful when not being used. It looks like a regular pillow that's just beautifully sitting there. It actually matches my bedding perfectly too.

The pregnancy pillow by Utterly Yours comes in 6 different designs all of which are beautiful. Ancanthus Duck Egg/Aqua is the design I have seen in person, and have to tell you it's even prettier in person! Utterly yours was invented by a Mom; Anita Jamshidi first invented the Utterly yours Breast pillow to help other woman who may find themselves having to support their breasts, which Anita found not only uncomfortable but also caused her sever wrist paint while she nursed. As a mother of 4, she knows the ups and downs of breastfeeding as well as pregnancy. The pregnancy pillow came shortly after when Anita was pregnant & was told by her OBGYN to lay on her left side to increase the blood flow to the baby. Running after 3 children while pregnant was physically exhausting she found all pregnancy pillows too soft, so invented something more firm which is exactly what you need to help support your growing baby belly!

I would HIGHLY recommend this beautiful, beneficial product to any mother or mother to be! I can't wait to try the breast pillow when my little girl arrives in December!
